Subject: WILL THIS GIMME GAME EVER END??????

THIS WAS SENT TO ME BY A FRIEND IN FLORIDA. STARTED MY DAY OFF WITH A " WILL THIS GIMME GAME EVER END??????

I was standing in line at the checkout counter at Wal Mart and as I looked at the line behind me, I saw a couple of people talking about what looked like identical new cell phones, bragging about the fact that their phones were free and so was the airtime.

The woman in line behind me had heard the same exchange and turned to the young man behind her and asked, "Is that a new type of cell phone?" The young Black man replied, "Yes, this be my new 'Obama phone.'"

She asked him what an "Obama phone" was, and he went on to say that, "Welfare recipients are now eligible to receive" what he described as (1) a FREE new cell phone, and (2) approximately 70 FREE minutes of air time every month. (I wonder who pays the minutes when using more than the 'gifted' 70 minutes, or will it just go dead)?

Needless to say, I was a little skeptical about his answer, so when I got back home, I 'Googled' it, and lo and behold, he was telling the truth.

This was what I discovered:

SafeLink Wireless is a government supported program that provides a free cell phone and airtime each month for income-eligible customers.

In other words, your tax dollars are being distributed to a wireless phone provider to provide welfare recipients with free cell phones and airtime.

I don't know about you, but as for me, enough is enough. We are $14 Trillion in debt, Congress is balking at continuing unemployment payments to those who want to work, and Congress is increasing the dole-out to dead beats..

The old concept of getting ahead through hard work has flown out the window. It has been replaced by Obama's and Congress' idea of "why should I work for it, when I can get it for free?"

You can click on the link below to confirm for yourself that the "Obama Phone" is real.
