

----- Original Message -----

From:

To:

Sent: Sunday, October 24, 2010 8:35 AM

Subject: FW: IsraeliBrilliance

Importance: High

I was sent this today from an overseas contact

Israeli Brilliance at the UN

An ingenious Jewish streak of brilliance occurred recently in the United Nations Assembly and made some, but not all, of the world community smile.

A representative from Israel began his speech:

“Before beginning my talk I want to tell you something about Moses. ...

When he struck the rock and it brought forth water, he thought, 'What a good opportunity to have a bath!'

He removed his clothes, put them aside on the rock and entered the water. When he got out and wanted to dress, his clothes had vanished. A Palestinian had stolen them.”

At this point, the Palestinian representative jumped up and shouted furiously, 'What are you talking about? The Palestinians weren't there back then.'

The Israeli ambassador to the UN smiled and said,

“And now that we have made that clear, I will begin my speech.... “

So.

Do have a good day all day today I am sure the Jewish ambassador to the UN did

Blessings

db

-